

CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF

Dear Uniformed Service Member:

As members of the Department of Defense, we have chosen to dedicate our lives to protecting our fellow Americans from harm. Each year, the Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) provides an additional venue for us to serve our fellow Americans. In the 59 years of CFC existence, Federal workers have given more than $8 billion in support of charitable organizations that give back in our communities and around the world. The campaign is easy, secure, and transparent.

Whatever your passion may be, chances are you will find a related organization among the CFC's more than 20,000 local and global non-profit charitable organizations. The recent health crisis and natural disasters have exacerbated the need for support in many communities. When your local CFC coordinator asks for your support this year, consider making a pledge.

Thank you for your service to our country, and for your support of the 2020 CFC.

Sincerely,

Dear Campaign Representative:

Since 1961, federal workers have contributed more than $8 billion to support charitable organizations that give back in our communities and around the world. Much of the Combined Federal Campaign's (CFC) longevity and success is thanks to individuals like you, who take on the extra duty of coordinating the campaign among their work unit.

By educating colleagues about how they can easily and securely give to thousands of different charities through CFC, you are further demonstrating the commitment to service that is rooted in the oath of office we take as members of the Department of Defense.

Thank you for your service to our country, and especially for stepping forward to help lead the vital work of the 2020 CFC.

Sincerely,
